Contributions in his memory may be made to the Montefiore Children's Hospital.

GREENE—Jerome L. The President, the Board of Trustees and entire Montefiore Medical Center community deeply mourn the death of our dear friend and supporter, Jerome L. Greene. A devoted and active trustee since 1972, he had an extraordinary impact on the quality of health and life of thousands of Montefiore patients and residents of the Bronx and Westchester. Combining his skills as a lawyer with his belief in Montefiore as an instrument of social responsibility, he led the medical center in the founding, 18 years ago, of the Moshulu Preservation Corporation, a nonprofit community development support corporation that has, with his guidance, saved housing, revitalized neighborhoods and created innovative projects such as moderate income housing, a community newspaper that serves 15,000 households, the first in-kind NY business improvement district sponsored under the auspices of an academic institution, a vast program of graffiti removal and a youth job training program—all of which have played a role in the Bronx's nationally recognized resurgence. He believed in the crucial role of academic medical centers such as Montefiore in advancing the health of communities through research, education and provision of high-quality care, and with his beloved wife, Dawn, he helped Montefiore create the Jerome L. and Dawn Greene Medical Arts Pavilion, a state-of-the-art building that opened in 1997 offering a full range of general and specialty services in an ambulatory care setting. More recently, he and his wife have been generous benefactors of The Children's Hospital at Montefiore, scheduled to open in 2001. In 1991, at its annual Celebrate Montefiore dinner dance, the medical center honored this remarkable man of vision and commitment for his exemplary stewardship. This year, Montefiore nominated him for the United Hospital Fund's 1999 Distinguished Community Service Award. The medical center has lost one of its greatest friends. We extend our heartfelt condolences to his loving wife, Dawn, and their entire family.

GREENE—Jerome L. With condolences, to Dawn and her family. We bid a sad farewell to our good friend and partner, Jerome L. Greene. Liliane and Norman Peck

LEWIS—Henkind, Chairman Dart Westphal, President Spencer Foreman, MD, Secretary Maurice E. LaBonne, Treasurer

Deaths

GREENE—Jerome L. The Directors and Officers of Moshulu Preservation Corporation (MPC) note with profound regret the passing of our founding Chairman, Jerome L. Greene. Mr. Greene's foresight in founding MPC, Montefiore Medical Center's non-profit community development support corporation, has served the community and its health for 18 years. The establishment of MPC was rooted in Mr. Greene's strong belief that Montefiore's commitment to broader public health issues and its long tradition of social responsibility was directly related to neighborhood preservation. His generosity and hands-on leadership of the Corporation made possible the creation of solutions to major problems of community life. His vision helped form a national model for institutional participation in community development. His efforts will mean better lives for people for generations to come.

Lewis Henkind, Chairman Dart Westphal, President Spencer Foreman, MD, Secretary Maurice E. LaBonne, Treasurer

GREENE—Jerome. The Julliard School deeply mourns the death of Jerome L. Greene. A Trustee of the School since 1985, he brought extraordinary leadership to the Institution through his exceptional intellect, unique vision, and caring sensitivity to the needs of all members of the Julliard Community. With a quick wit and a devotion to the performing and visual arts, he enriched us all through his presence and commitment to the School. The Jerome L. Greene Fellowships stand as the first scholarships created in the history of Julliard to be created for all three of the performing arts taught at the School. His wise counsel and generosity also made Julliard's residence hall a reality. We send our heartfelt condolences to his beloved wife, Dawn, and all of his family. He will be profoundly missed by us all.

Mary Rodgers Guettel, Chairman Joseph W. Polisi, President

GREENE—Jerome L. Once in a great while there comes along a person, who in life makes an indelible impression upon others by their very being...that their memory will likely never fade. Jerome L. Greene was one of these individuals. The Carlyle has long been a part of his life, and he has been so very important to this New York institution. We cherish most and value greatest that we were privileged to know, love and be influenced by him, for he was a very special man.

Dan Camp and the Staff of The Carlyle

GREENE—Jerome L. The firm of Richards & O'Neil, LLP, expresses its sadness on the passing of its longtime friend and client, Jerome L. Greene. Jerry was a mentor to several of our partners. We admired his legal and business acumen, his dynamic personality and his generous nature. His many charitable endeavors on behalf of educational, medical and cultural organizations will leave a lasting legacy. We mourn his loss and extend our heartfelt condolences to his wife Dawn and his family.

GREENE—Jerome. The Board and Staff of the Citizens Committee for New York City note with deep sorrow the loss of its beloved director Jerry Greene. A dedicated New Yorker, he believed in the power of the city's people to make life better. His gentle humor and generous spirit will be missed. Our deepest sympathy to his wife Dawn, his daughter Patricia, and his entire family.

GREENE—Jerome L. The Winter Organization and the entire Winter family extend their deepest condolences to the family of Jerome L. Greene, an esteemed friend and partner for many years. We will miss his wise counsel and warm wit.

GREENE—Jerome L. With condolences, to Dawn and her family. We bid a sad farewell to our good friend and partner, Jerome L. Greene.

HIRSCH—Andrew. A very longtime true friend. Our sincere condolences to Rita, Joan and Ronald and families. We will surely miss him. Sylvia and Jerry Sternberg HIRSCHHORN—Anne. Beloved wife of the late Leo. Devoted mother of Dr. Robert and Paul Hirschhorn. Loving grandmother and great-grandmother. Services today, 12 noon, at "Gutterman's," 8000 Jericho Tpke, Woodbury, LI.

Deaths

JAFFE—Marlene Mae. March 29, 58 years old. Born in San Francisco. Daughter of the late Susan and Zella Jaffe. Very loving sister of Dr. Reuben Ralph and Ruth Jaffe. Beloved aunt to Naomi Deborah Jaffe and Adina and Rabbi Leah Lipson and daughter Rebecca. A loving niece and cousin. Marlene had a wonderful sense of humor and much compassion. RECANATI—Raphael. It is with a profound sense of loss that the Board of Trustees, Medical Board and Administration of Beth Israel Medical Center join with the leadership of its parent company, Continuum Health Partners, Inc., in acknowledging the passing of our dear friend and devoted colleague, Raphael Recanati, Honor. Trustee of Beth Israel. Few have matched the extraordinary philanthropy of Mr. Recanati and his devoted wife, Dina, to Beth Israel. A consistent thread running through their history of support has been generous donations toward critically important needs of medical education and research, particularly in the areas of neurology, cardiology, nephrology, hepatology, pulmonary medicine, dermatology, orthopaedic surgery, pediatrics and geriatrics. Mr. Recanati's creative philanthropic approach served as a crucial resource to our staff, allowing them to make important advances in patient care and expanded medical knowledge. He will forever be remembered for helping to create a clinical and educational environment that makes Beth Israel a vibrant place to study and practice medicine. Our heartfelt condolences are extended to Dina, his sons Oudi and Michael, the entire Recanati family, and all whose lives have been touched by his extraordinary humanitarian spirit.

Morton P. Hyman, Chairman, Boards of Trustees, Continuum and BIMC Robert G. Newman, MD, President and CEO, Continuum Matthew E. Fink, MD, President and CEO, BIMC Henry Singman, MD, President, BIMC Medical Board

RECANATI—Raphael. The Trustees, Faculty and Staff of Mount Sinai School of Medicine and The Mount Sinai Hospital of Mount Sinai N.Y.U. Health are profoundly saddened by the passing of Raphael Recanati, a generous benefactor and a member of the Committee of 1,000, who endowed and named the Recanati/Miller Transplantation Institute. Mr. Recanati's philanthropy enabled Mount Sinai to establish a unique interdisciplinary center that combines the strengths of our numerous individual transplant services, enhances patient care and facilitates research, supporting Mount Sinai's commitment to bringing the life-saving process of transplantation to as many people as possible. We extend our heartfelt condolences to his wife, Dina, to his sons Udi and Michael, and to the entire family.

Stephen M. Peck, Chairman John W. Rowe, M.D., President Arthur H. Rubenstein, M.D. Chairman, Dean Barry R. Freedman Executive Vice President Theresa A. Bischoff Executive Vice President

RECANATI—Raphael. The Officers and employees of Orana Partners are deeply saddened by the passing of Raphael Recanati, a visionary man who led our parent company and who was the father of our Chairman, Michael Recanati. We extend our condolences to Mrs. Dina Recanati, Oudi, Michael and the entire Recanati family.

Deaths

RECANATI—Raphael. The physicians, fellows, residents and staff of the Department of Medicine join with the entire Beth Israel Medical Center family in mourning the passing of Honorary Trustee Raphael Recanati, whose encouragement and support have meant so much to the Department's clinical, educational and investigative advances. Among his many philanthropic endeavors have been major support in cardiology; support for liver research and the advancement of hepatologic studies; funding of fellowship training in cardiology, pulmonary medicine and nephrology; and support for infectious disease programs. Our sincere condolences to his wife, Dina, the entire Recanati family, and all of his loved ones.

Stephen G. Baum, MD, Chairman, Department of Medicine Mark Rosen, MD, Chief, Division of Pulmonary and Critical Care Medicine Allen M. Kaufman, MD, Chief, Division of Nephrology

RECANATI—Raphael. The faculty and staff of the Recanati/Miller Transplantation Institute of the Mount Sinai Hospital and School of Medicine mourn with deep sorrow the loss of our great friend and generous benefactor, Raphael Recanati, M.D. Recanati was an extraordinary man of vision and courage. The dynamism of his humor, spirit, strength and wisdom was an inspiration to everyone who knew him. It was our honor and good fortune to have been touched by him. Through his generous philanthropy, countless patients will benefit from life-saving advances in transplantation science and technology. We will miss his presence, but we will always cherish his memory. Our hearts go out to his wife, Dina, and his sons Oudi and Michael and their families.

Charles M. Miller, M.D. Director Henry C. Bodenheimer, Jr., M.D. Deputy Director

RECANATI—Raphael. Generous benefactor and Honorary Trustee of Beth Israel Medical Center, will forever be remembered by the physicians, nurses, and staff of the Hospital's Heart Institute for his extraordinary support of our efforts. Through the Dina and Raphael Recanati Cardiology Research Fund and the Recanati-Horowitz Diagnostic Cardiology Research Fund, he ensured that, at Beth Israel, medical education would reach hand-in-hand with clinical research and patient care. For this, and all that he did to advance cardiac care, we will be forever grateful. Our condolences to his beloved wife, Dina, and the entire Recanati family.

Thomas Killip, MD, Director, The Heart Institute of Beth Israel Steven F. Horowitz, MD, Chief, The Thomas Killip, MD, Division of Cardiology

RECANATI—Raphael. The Board of Directors and Officers of PEC Israel Economic Corporation deeply mourn the passing of Raphael Recanati, our former Chairman and guiding force. For over 28 years his foresight, wisdom, exceptional business acumen, and strong leadership guided PEC to bring a major investment company in Israel and an integral part of the IDB Holding Group. His devotion and generosity to cultural, educational, and medical institutions in Israel and the United States was without peer. We extend our heartfelt sympathy to his wife Dina, his sons Oudi and Michael, and their families. He will sorely be missed by all who knew him and all whose lives he touched with his philanthropy.

Frank J. Klein, President Board of Directors

RECANATI—Raphael. The Board of Directors, Management and entire staff of Overseas Shipholding Group, Inc., deeply mourn the passing of our founder, Mr. Raphael Recanati. He was a man of extraordinary vision whose leadership created and sustained our Company. Among his many substantial business interests and activities throughout the world, shipping was his special passion. His uncommon humanity was ever available to help and to guide. He was as beloved as he was respected. We will miss him greatly. To his wife, Dina, his sons Oudi and Michael, the grandchildren, family and all who loved him, we extend our heartfelt condolences.

Morton P. Hyman, President

Deaths

RECANATI—Raphael. Beth Israel Honorary Trustee Raphael Recanati will forever be remembered by the clinical and administrative staffs in the Alan and Barbara Mirken Department of Neurology. He leaves behind a legacy of support that has helped advance the study of critical diseases and new approaches to medical care, while, at the same time, fostering educational opportunities for the physicians of tomorrow. To his family and friends, and all his loved ones, our deepest sympathies.

Susan B. Bressman, MD Chairman The Alan and Barbara Mirken Department of Neurology

RECANATI—Raphael. It is with profound sadness that we acknowledge the loss of our great friend and benefactor. Mr. Recanati's great courage and compassion touched us all, and his generosity will benefit generations of physicians and patients yet to come. Our best wishes of comfort go out to the Recanati family.

Steven F. Horowitz, M.D., and the Division of Medical Cardiology Beth Israel Medical Center

In lieu of flowers, contributions may be made in her memory to The Evelyn Lauder Breast Cancer Center of Memorial Sloan-Kettering. She will be sorely missed.

WALSH—Peter. The entire family of St. Luke's-Roosevelt Hospital Center mourns the passing of the former Assistant to the President, Peter Walsh. An invaluable asset to the hospital center for over a quarter century, his cheerful spirit and dedication to our patients will never be forgotten. To his sister Rosemary and to his entire family, we offer our profound condolences.
